WATSON AND DORSEY

Concord Tribune. Hugh M. Dorsey, the successful Democratic nominee for the governorship in Georgia, received the support in his contest of Thomas E. Watson. Mr. Dorsey's friends, many of them, warned Mr. Dorsey that Mr. Watson was a "rule or ruin" individual, and that trouble might be expected from him in the future. And the trouble has come soon enough. Watson bitterly opposes President Wilson, and it is currently reported in Georgia political circles that he has made a demand on Dorsey that the platform adopted by the Democratic convention to be held in Macon September 26, must not contain an endorsement of the President's administration. This demand confronts the Governor-elect with the most embarrassing situation that any man in his position has been called upon to face in recent years, for the reason that Mr. Dorsey ran as a Democrat in a Democratic primary and was given the nomination at the hands of the Democratic voters by an overwhelming majority. To add to Dorsey's troubles, it is regarded as certain that "Little Albert" Howell, the law partner of Dorsey and manager of his campaign will defy Editor Watson and insist that the platform adopted in Macon shall contain a strong endorsement of the President. It is pointed out that Mr. Howell could hardly do less than take this stand, in view of the fact that his brother, Clark Howell, is Democratic national committeeman from Georgia, and in view of the further fact that the Atlanta constitution, of which Clark Howell is editor and Albert Howell is president, has consistently supported the president. The outcome will be watched with interest.

THREE MEETINGS IN INTEREST OF FARMING

(By Associated Press.) El Paso, Tex., Sept. 25.—Three important events of an international character that will have a direct and lasting influence on the agriculture of the United States will be held here from October 14 to 19, inclusive. They are: The International Irrigation Congress, the International Farm Congress and the International Soil Products Exposition, which lasts until October 24.

This will be the twenty-third annual meeting of the International Irrigation congress and it will be the second time that it has met here. The tentative program begins with the dedication of the Elephant Butte Dam. The congress has before it for discussion many important subjects relating to irrigation in both the United States and Mexico. It is probable that one of the meetings will be held across the international border at Juarez, Mexico.

All of the foreign countries have been invited to send delegates, but owing to disturbed conditions in Europe it is not believed likely that many delegates from there will participate. From other countries, especially the western hemisphere, usually large delegations take part in the meetings and it is believed that this year's congress will prove an exceptional one. In its discussions the congress will give much attention to irrigation districts practices, legislation and engineering. Two of the important questions, planned to be discussed, are Rural Credits and Markets and Marketing. The Rural Credits discussions are regarded as of special importance in view of the recent passage of the Federal Farm Loan Bank Act and the present efforts of the Farm Loan Board is distributing the country and establishing the proposed farm loan banks.

The work of the Irrigation Congress," says Arthur Hooker, secretary, "with respect to colonization and land settlement, irrigation methods and results, and irrigation finances, is to be continued and broadened at the El Paso meetings. The real aim of the congress is well expressed in its motto: 'Make Easy the Path of the Home Builder.'"

Besides President Wilson, many prominent men, leaders in the agricultural and irrigation extensions movement, are to take part in the congress. Among them probably will be the following: Franklin P. Lane, secretary of the interior; David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture; W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture of Canada; Geo. P. Hunt, governor of Arizona; Hiram U. Johnson, governor of California; Geo. A. Carlson, governor of Colorado; E. M. Ammons, ex-governor of Colorado; Moses Alexander, governor of Idaho; Arthur Capper, governor of Kansas; S. O. V. Stewart, governor of Montana; A. S. Williams, governor of Oklahoma; Frank M. Byrne, governor of South Dakota; James E. Ferguson, governor of Utah; J. B. Kendrick, governor of Wyoming; William E. McDonald, governor of New Mexico; Ernest Lister, governor of Washington, and Dr. T. N. Carver, of Harvard University. The International Farm congress concerns itself chiefly with irrigation methods. In connection with the congress and under the management of its officers is to be held the International Soil Products Exposition on where are to be agricultural exhibits from the United States government, many of the individual states and foreign governments. It is understood that even some of the warring nations of Europe will not be unrepresented this year.

MANY AERIAL COMBATS ALONG WESTERN FRONT

Paris, Sept. 25.—The official statement of the French war department, issued Sunday afternoon says concerning aviation:

"Aviation: Yesterday enemy airmen having shown unusual activity, our pursuing squadrons successfully engaged them in aerial combats. On a great part of the front our pilots gained considerable success and indisputably had the upper hand of the enemy."

"On the Somme front there were 29 engagements. Four enemy planes were brought down. One fell in the vauz woods. Two attacks by Sub-Lieutenant Gulyneer, descended in flames after some minutes of fighting, making Gulyneer's 17th and 18th airplanes. A fourth machine crashed to the earth south of Misery. Three other German machines were seriously hit and fell wrecked near Estrees and in the region of Peronne."

"Four enemy aeroplanes were compelled to descend in their own lines. It is confirmed that one German machine reported seriously hit September 22 was brought down between Misery and Villers-Corbonnet."

"Between Chaulnes and Havre six Germans were brought down. One fell burning near Chaulnes during an engagement between four French and six enemy machines. A second fell at Licourt, a third at Parvillers and a fourth south of Marchepot, a fifth and a sixth were brought down by the same pilot in an engagement between a French squadron and six Germans. They fell in the region of Andrehy on our lines."

"A Fokker fell flaming near our lines north of Chalons. Another was apparently seriously damaged."

"In the Verdun region machine guns winged a German at close quarters. The machine descended on Poivre hill. A Fokker dived vertically into our line east of St. Mihiel."

"In Lorraine a French pilot pursued a German for a distance of 12 miles into the German lines, killed the passenger and compelled the machine to descend. Another enemy machine descended in the forest of Gamecy. In the Vosges two enemy machines dived nose downward into our lines after fighting our pilots."

The national guard

For defense against the elements CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is the real "national guard". It protects our buildings from the violence of storms and the withering fire of mid-summer sun. It even withstands the ravages of time, for is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it will out-last the period of guarantee. The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the fact that it is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalt— the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. This is then covered with a harder blend of asphalt, which prevents the drying-out process for years after the harder, drier kinds of roofing have dried out and gone.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing for every kind of building, whether pitched roofs, the largest sky-scraper or the smallest residence or out-building. CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.
